

Healthy Advantage: awareness is the first step to empowerment

Healthy Advantage is ideal for organizations searching for ways to positively impact their bottom line while helping employees attain a brighter and healthier future.

Our program provides you with an engaging onsite wellness experience designed to create health awareness.

Health Screening

Our onsite screening begins with a health assessment and finger stick blood draw. Blood pressure, height, weight and waist circumference (body mass index) are also measured.

Testing Flexibility

We can easily accommodate those not able to attend the onsite screening with the option to test at a lab or utilize home test kits. Employers with a dispersed workforce, small worksites or remote locations may prefer this alternative to onsite biometrics.

One-on-One Health Education

Our health coaches privately review and discuss test results with each participant at the end of the health screening, answering questions that are specific to the participant's results.

Member Website

Participants can view their health screening results and access a wide variety of personalized online tools and resources to keep track of their health while making improvements.

Employee Communications

We provide you with communications designed to reach diverse employee populations and create a lasting culture of health.

Reporting

Participants receive a health report with their screening results. We also provide you with an aggregate report detailing the current health status of your employees.

Data Management

Our data collection and management process includes tablet capability, allowing us to provide you with accurate files to administer rewards and incentives. We offer the ability to share this data securely with your vendors as needed.
